Re: CHRISAL

Our facility entered into a 30 day trial period using Chrisal cleaning products in April of 2011. John Edwards, Managing Director of Chrisal Canada provided all of the necessary product and equipment for the trial period. This included the use various Chrisal products, fogging equipment and ATP testing equipment. The objective goals of our trial were to improve the appearance of surfaces, odour control and the control of bacterial contamination.

One of the products we tried was Chrisal PIP Allergy Free spray. We sprayed the product onto one half of a sofa in our lobby area and within days it was visibly obvious that the treated side looked much cleaner than the untreated side.

At the time we were also receiving complaints of odours in our weight room. We dispensed Chrisal over the entire area using the fogging equipment provided by John which effectively distributes the product onto a large percentage of all wall, floor and equipment surfaces. Again, within days of its use we had received comments from patrons of improved air quality in our weight room.

There was also a dramatic improvement in the cleanliness of the strip drain covers in our pool change rooms. Even though the floors in this area are cleaned daily, the covers were not being kept clean with the product we were using and would occasionally have to be soaked and scrubbed to remove the built up grime. By using Chrisal these covers are now kept constantly clean.

Throughout the trial John performed numerous before and after ATP tests in a number of high traffic areas and the results clearly demonstrated Chrisal's ability to maintain bacterial control.

Besides the effectiveness of the cleaner itself, the low hazard and toxicity ratings of the Chrisal cleaning products has increased our level of worker safety. And as our organization has a focal emphasis on promoting green initiatives, Chrisal helps minimize our impact on the environment in terms of what goes down the drain.

We are extremely happy with the goods and services received from Chrisal Canada and would highly recommend them to anyone.
